The ‘masterclass’ is designed to help you understand the workings of the photoshoot and should be attended by every family member who is going to be coming in the water on the day of the shoot.

This is a chance to understand how the shots are taken, to help family members who do not take part in the classes understand about submersion, to go through some ‘dos and don’ts’, become familiar with the pool used if you do not usually use the Halifax pool (important for babies), look at how the different shots are taken and run through them so you are familiar and any hiccups can be observed in advance as I will be watching carefully underwater. This is designed so that you can get the best photos on the day of the shoot that you can and can do some individual practice in the classes prior to the shoot.
